BCREA Celebrates Frances

Frances Smoot has been opening BCREA meetings with a "Thought for the Day" for "about 20 years" she guesses.

And now she's ready to hang up her microphone. We will miss her wonderful messages.

Doing the Thought was definately not the only contribution she has made in her 25 or so years in BCREA.

From 2001 - 2004 she served as president. Before and after she's been on Membership, Scholarships, FREF, Information Services and probably more. She's attended numerous FREA conventions over the years. She's definitely been the GOAT of BCREA and it's now time for her to just enjoy the meetings and visiting with her many friends in the club.

Zoom Combo Is A Work in Progress

President Sue is still working on perfecting the Combination of a Zoom meeting with our in-person meeting. At this point Julia Penley (at left in photo) reports she still can't hear. Julia has been our "quality control" person since the beginning. By trying to do this we can more readily relate to the difficulties faced by teachers trying to teach hybrid classes during the pandemic.

President's Corner

Spring is the season of new beginnings. A season of hope, possibility, rebirth, renewal, reawakening, new growth, blooming flowers, singing birds, blue skies ... Spring break, spring cleaning, spring fever, spring training...I read a newly released book this weekend, Imagine If...Creating A Future For Us All, by Sir Ken Robinson, Ph.D., and Kate Robinson, his daughter. It was a perfect entry into the spring season, a short, pocket-sized manifesto of Sir Ken's life's work, compiled and published by Kate after her father's death in 2020. A lover of Sir Ken's work, I was immediately drawn to Chapter 4: The Promise of Education. He defines the core purpose of education into the following four basic purposes: personal, cultural, economic, and social. He also suggests integrating the following eight core competencies throughout a student's educational curriculum: curiosity, creativity, criticism, communication, collaboration, compassion, composure, and citizenship. Please click on this link <https://youtu.be/GrnUCtiyUJq> and watch the clips from 0:00 - 19:20 and 9:33:25-9:40:00 to experience Sir Ken Robinson's vision of the power of imagination, innovation, and the celebration of human potential. Please join us for our next BCREA meeting on April 7, 2022, at 12:30 pm for our program, Highlighting Broward Students. You will see and hear the imagination, innovation, and service of several BCPS high school student leaders. "What you do for yourself dies with you...what you do for others lives on forever." Sir Ken Robinson

President-Elect's Corner

Are high school students lazy and self-centered? Often that is what is portrayed in the news media.

As educators, we know that we cannot believe everything we read about students! At April's meeting BCREA is going to feature students doing good in their communities. Working with BCREA members Mary Ellen Fowler and Sue Colton, dedicated students from Ely High and Boyd Anderson High will highlight their outstanding student volunteer projects. We will learn creative ways to solve problems.

Since Frances Smoot has relinquished her role of presenting the Thought for the Day at our meetings, we are looking for a new person - or persons - to provide inspiration or a laugh. The expectation is that the Thought for The Day be short, nonpolitical, inspirational but non-religious, and help set the tone for the day. Have you read a poem, a short story or anything that has touched you or made you say 'Aha'? We all have enjoyed these snippets - sometimes to laugh, often to reflect and occasionally to act. Please step up to share these gems with the group. Call or email me to discuss how you can fill this valuable role. Anne Volunteerism, now is the time! We have discussed before about "Random Acts of Kindness" those actions we take, either random or planned, that we perform to help our family, friends or neighbors. We all try to help one another: picking up a neighbor's newspaper, calling an elderly person to see if they need anything, offering a ride to a Doctor's visit, walking someone's puppy dog, etc.

April is National Volunteer Month which encourages us to "step up" our random acts to a higher level and donate our time, offering our skills and talents, or giving resources to individuals, communities or organizations needing assistance. This week, as we have watched the news, we have seen selfless communities as they give everything to help their neighbors or complete strangers. If you are able, now is the time to "step it up," and volunteer at one of the organizations that are in need of your support. Below you will see some organizations which will offer opportunities for seniors to volunteer their time and skills. Some will even match your interests and talents to specific programs. No matter whether your generous acts are large or small, the practice of doing kind deeds brings joy to both the recipient and yourself. We know that we feel better when we help others, it also increases our own self worth, encourages physical energy, helps engage our social skills, and in some cases helps us to gain knowledge. As Oscar Wilde said, "The smallest act of kindness is worth more than the greatest intention."

Stay fit, stay sharp and send positive thoughts to others. Now, more than any other time, if you are able, please lend a helping hand. Don't forget to report your volunteer hours to Darcy.

Literacy

Chair: Sandy Lefkowitz

Reading, writing and arithmetic, the 3 R's are still considered the backbone of education. Today consider three additional R's: reasoning, resilience and responsibility (Robert J. Sterling, PhD, American Psychological Association). It's important to teach today's youth critical thinking, "stick with-it-ness" and caring for others plus the environment. To bring you up to date with our literacy program for this year, the Literacy Committee sadly reports that we did not receive any entries for the Margaret Poppell

Fifth Grade Writing Contest. We know this year has been difficult for teachers: returning to the classroom, masks and no masks, battling what can and can't be taught. Let's look forward to the 2022-2023 school year. Let's pledge to contact schools, teachers and fifth graders and work diligently to encourage students to write essays and enter the fifth grade essay contest. Let's remind teachers and students to reason, to be resilient, and to be responsible.

Live beneath your means.
Return everything you borrow.
Stop blaming other people.
Admit it when you make mistakes.
Give clothes not worn to charity.
Do something nice and try not to get caught.
Listen more; talk less.
Every day take a 30 min. walk.
Strive for excellence, not perfection.
Be on time. Don't make excuses.
Don't argue.
Get organized.
Be kind to unkind people.
Let someone cut ahead of you in line.
Take time to be alone.
Cultivate good manners.
Be humble.
Realize and accept that life isn't fair.
Know when to keep your mouth shut.
Go an entire day without criticizing anyone.
Learn from the past. Plan for the future.
Live in the present.
Don't sweat the small stuff.
It's all small stuff.
